

Blind Work Expenses (BWE)

a program of GOODWILL·EASTER SEALS®
MINNESOTA

Using Blind Work Expenses allows you to keep more of your Supplemental Security Income (SSI) check when you work.

Blind Work Expenses can be used if you are receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits based on blindness. Being “legally blind,” and/or qualifying for State Services for the Blind does not automatically qualify you for this work incentive. You must check that you can use Blind Work Expenses with your local Social Security office.

Examples of Blind Work Expenses include the cost(s) of:

- transportation to and from work
- meals consumed during work hours
- professional association fees and union dues
- federal, state, local income taxes, and Social Security taxes
- visual and sensory aids; translation of materials into Braille
- attendant care services
- guide dog expenses including food, vet bills and upkeep
- uniforms or other equipment needed for the job

Why Use Blind Work Expenses?

Here is an example of how Blind Work Expenses can make an SSI payment higher.

John receives $771 of SSI when he is not working. If John starts earning $885 per month, his SSI payment would be $371 per month. However, if he earned $885 and had $300 in Blind Work Expenses, his SSI check would be $671. That is an extra $300 each month!

You report that when you work you will likely have the following potential Blind Work Expenses:

These Blind Work Expenses could increase your Supplemental Security Income payment when you work.

If you did not talk to anyone at the Connection, but believe that you may have Blind Work Expenses, write them out on the lines provided above.

To Use Blind Work Expenses:

1. Call your SSI Claims Representative:

_____ at: _____

Ask if you can use any of the expenses you listed on the front page as Blind Work Expenses.

Ask what information you need to send SSI so they can approve your Blind Work Expenses.

Ask how often you should send your paystubs and receipts.

2. Gather all the information the SSI Claims Representative asks you to send in. This may include your paystubs and receipts for your Blind Work Expenses.

3. Send all the information to the Claims Representative with a note asking her/him to call you to let you know if your expenses are approved.

4. Do not assume you get to use Blind Work Expenses until your Claims Representative says they are approved. Call the Connection if you have problems or questions.

5. Keep all of your paystubs and receipts for Blind Work Expenses in a safe place so they are easy to find

6. Be sure to send copies of your paystubs and receipts to Social Security when they ask for them.
